Dunnottar Castle spectacle ruined castle in stunning clifftop location. The earliest parts are from the 1290s, around the time William Wallace - Bravewright - attacked the English garrison and won back the castle. In the 1600s, the Scottish Crown Jewels were sent here for safe keeping, causing a scene by Cromwell's army. The Jewels were smuggled out and taken to Kilmarnock Kirk. Open all year (Fri-Mon only in winter)
St Ciaran's Kirk, Fishertown Ruins (mostly from 16th) of church dedicated by David de Bernham, Bishop of St Andrews in 1426, in picturesque Kirkton of Fetteresso. St Ciaran (or Riain) was a Celtic Saint from Argyll.
War Memorial on the Black Hill between Dunnottar Castle and the town. Built in 1919, the memorial links the sky, the cliffs and the sea and was designed to look like a Greek temple ruin - a symbol of all the lives ruined by the First World War. Also commemorates those who lost their lives in the Second World War.
Chapel of St Mary & St Nathalan, Cowie. Ruins of church dedicated in 1259 to St Mary of the Stanes. Interesting gravestones from 1300s showing the tools of the trade of those buried there. See Walk
